SENIOR CLASS

of

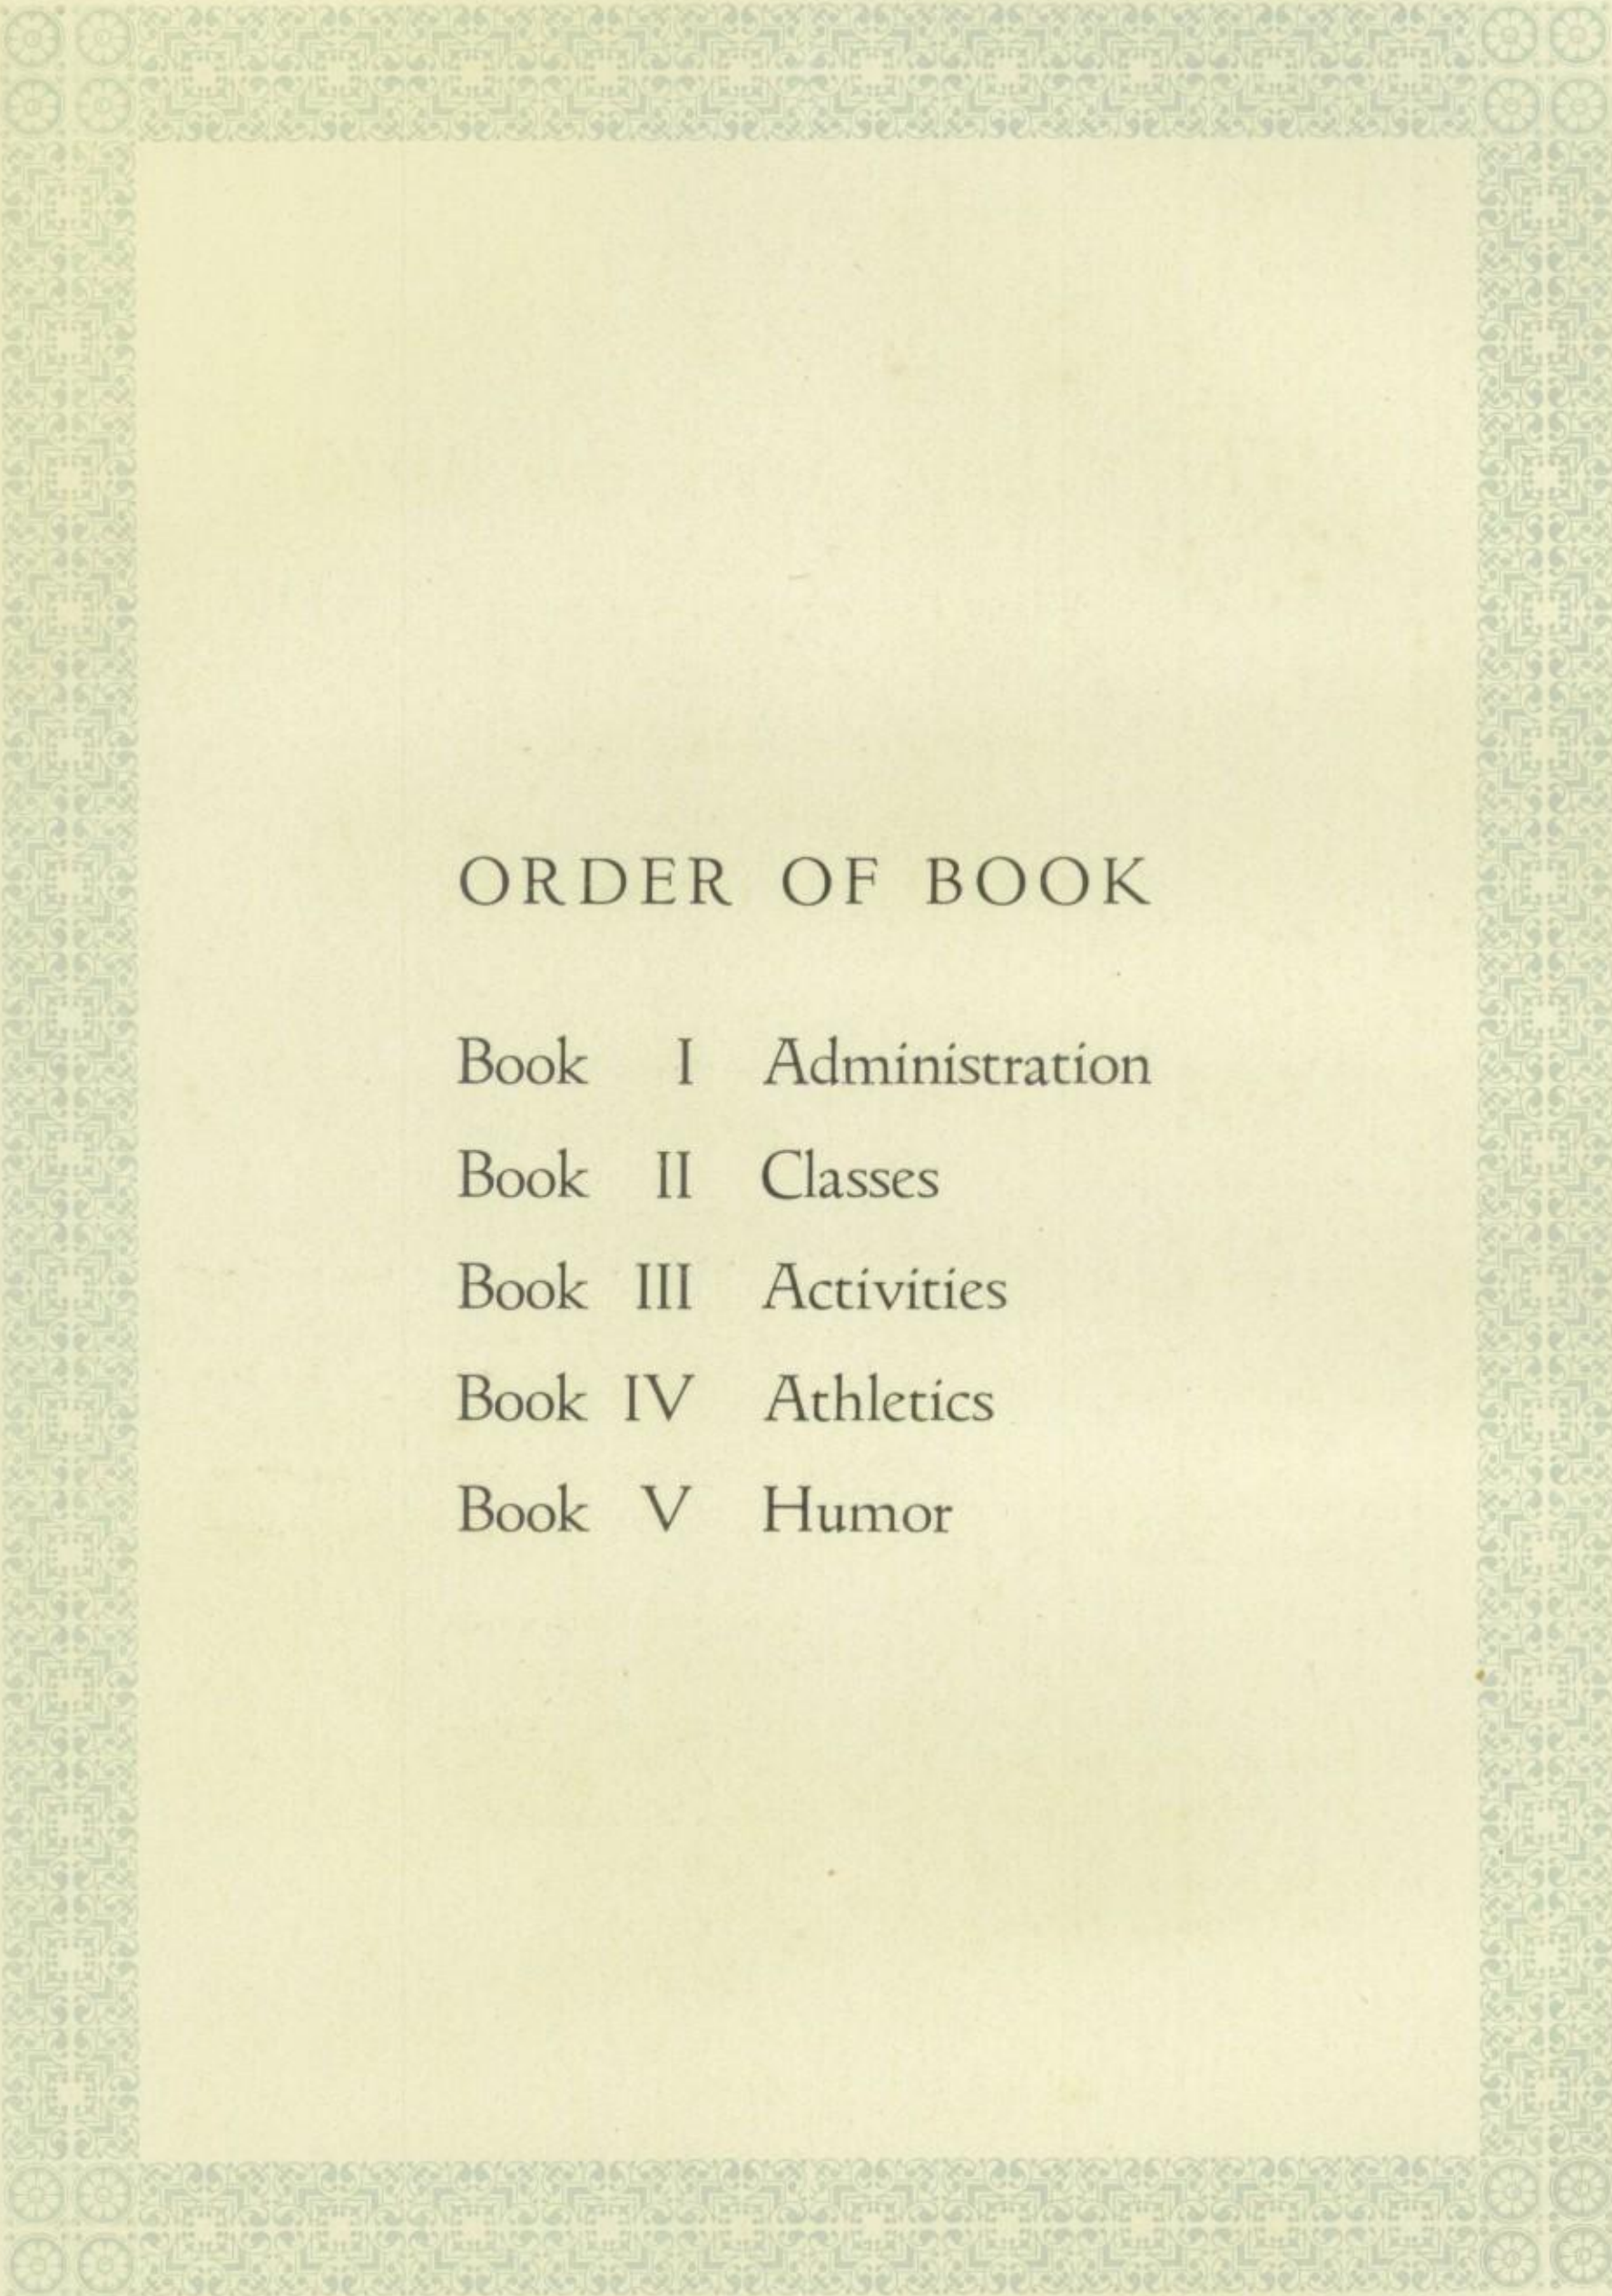

MARION HIGH SCHOOL
MARION, IOWA

THE purposes of the 1930 Staff have been to put into this volume the history of our High School days—to make more vivid our past—the athletic field—the study halls—the assemblies and classes.

Foreword

TO the BUSINESS MEN who, through their willing co-operation and loyal support have made this book possible, we dedicate this, the 1930 Marion Quill.

CLASS HISTORY

MOTHER Goose's party had well started when Simple Simon, fatter than usual, came sauntering in. He explained that he had been detained by the pieman which everyone admitted was a plausible excuse, being well aware of his weakness for pastry. But the hostess chided him and by way of punishment told him he should be first to tell a story after they had finished their beverage of Lilydew.

With a painful sigh Simon soothingly stroked the devoured pies and proposed to give his narration at once, adding that he did not believe he would care for any refreshments. Mrs. Goose glanced at his protruding waist with her motherly eye and quite agreed with him that his method of procedure should be followed.

"I'll tell my favorite fairy story," commenced Simon, "one that the Wise Old Owl told me when Dr. Rabbit sent him over to cheer me up when I had pietortions. It is 'The Career of the Class of 1930'.

"Thirteen years ago many fairies from the realm of Marion entered the kindergarten in search of knowledge. During the sixth year they had their first attack of 'acute examinations' and never fully recovered for every following year the 'epidemic' assumed a new form of torture.

"Nevertheless, they were well satisfied with their findings and started new paths of exploration in the petty kingdom of Junior High under the guidance of Prince Finger. Lady Stamy well succeeded in twisting the fairies' tongues around the right English words. Princesses Mills and Steen taught them many stories about their fellow-fairies in other parts of the universe. Soon their heads were almost bursting with history and arithmetic.

"It took several years for the fairies to display their musical talents to advantage but Princess Jaycox finally awoke to the fact that the class consisted of some singing canaries. As a result they were given the opportunity of entertaining the entire Marion realm at an operetta, 'Hulda of Holland' which was a galloping success.

"Finally the time 'approached' for them to explore farther into the realm of fairyland. They decided it would be best to band together for safety because they had heard of the dangers of Algebra and Geometry, not to mention Physics, Latin, or Spanish. So they ventured to the supreme monarchy of Marion High, ruled by King Vernon.

"The older fairies called them 'green' because they were 'fresh', knowing little of the 'etiquette' of this higher domain. But it did not take them long to learn. They secretly observed the maneuvers of their superiors and elected 'officers' merely because the others did so. Lord Dole explained the rules and regulations of voting, stressing the fact that each should be entitled to only one vote. The 'majority' chose Brownie Baker, Demon Dick, and Elf Elmer to the offices of President, Vice President, and Secretary-Treasurer.

"At the close of the term, King Vernon invited them back to renew their search the following September. The fairies gladly went home for a romp in the woods to relieve their over-burdened and 'exam-racked' minds.

"When they returned, King Vernon solemnly pronounced them 'Sophomores' and they were true to their name. Having a year's experience as subjects of Lord Dole, the 'Sophs' thought they knew practically everything and displayed such an 'attitude' toward the new 'freshies.' They even went so far as to spike the punch at one of their celebrations whereupon the entertainment was 'abruptly' brought to a close.

"When May put in her appearance, the brownies and fairies again sought sylvan solitudes to return in September duly christened 'Juniors.'

"The 'Juniors' realized the seriousness of the tasks ahead of them so they wasted no time in electing Brownies Callahan and Snyder for President and Vice President, and the Graceful fairy as Secretary-Treasurer.

"This was the year for them to throw a big celebration in honor of the 'Seniors.' They decided Gatto's would be an 'appropriate' banquet hall but their plans went 'up in smoke', so they had to content themselves with Odd Fellows Hall where the Rebekahs were very 'obliging' and served the dinner for them.

"A new event came about during that 'memorable' year. A chapter of the 'National Honor Society' was for the first time introduced in the High School. The Juniors were represented by three members: Fairies Grace and Mildred S. and Brownie Wayne.

"The realm of Marion could not 'resist' attending the play, 'The Family Upstairs' which the 'Juniors' put on. It was such a success that they 'performed' it the second night.

"The next September the fairies that did not feel as though they had enough training went back to the kingdom fully conscious of the fact that they were 'Seniors' in the full sense of the word.

"Many of their fellow-fairies were on the football team and led the domain to victory every time but thrice, being outdone by Grant and tying with Anamosa and Tipton. Most of the brownies played all the games like good sports. They were so inspired with the spirit of sportsmanship that nothing could stop them—no! not even injury. Brownie Bill displayed the heroic efforts of every player when he forgot his swollen, aching ankle and continued to forge the line.

"King Vernon granted permission for a high school dance. The 'gym' was gaily bedecked and all the brownies and fairies enjoyed themselves 'immensely' because they felt at home among the red and green streamers. They danced and sang as they did in the wood.

"Seven of the 'Seniors' were chosen to be members of the 'National Honor Society.' They were: Fairies Faye, Leona and Marjorie, and Brownies Stewart, Calvin, Kyle and William.

"The 'Seniors' were royally entertained by the 'Juniors' at a banquet as they had entertained the 'Seniors' before them.

"After the ceremonies of 'Baccalaureate' and 'Commencement' had been performed at the 'Methodist sanctuary,' and 'Class Day' exercises at the school, the 'Seniors' were fully armed with thirteen years' knowledge to fight the battles of the world."

CLASS SONG

(Tune of "Following You")

VERSE

Four years have passed away,
How quickly they have flown—
Just as glad and gay as they could be—
We'll hope success to win,
For we've one motto only—
"Be square" wherever that we may go.

CHORUS

Our lessons are said—
We leave with a sigh—
Life's pathway to tread.
Farewell Marion High.
Wherever we go,
Whatever we try,
We want you to know
We love Marion High.
True and loyal we will be,
Your praises fondly sing,
Life may open wide its doors,
The bells now loudly ring,
The friends that we've made
Are bound with a tie.
Mem'ries ne'er fade,
Farewell Marion High.

"Jo"

CLASS POEM

Four years we've spent in Marion High;
How fast those years have sped.
Four years we've whispered, studied, laughed,
Yet slowly forged ahead.

Memories will linger on
Of all the happy throngs;
Of feet that danced to music gay
And stamped to yells and songs.

Memories will ever keep
Of battles lost and won;
The band, the burst of wild applause—
"Fight! the game is on!"

Many a friend and pal we've made
Throughout our school career;
May flowers of friendship bloom for all
In every future year.

CONTRARY MARY.

CALENDAR

(Jill, in answer to a frantic appeal, allowed us to print the following letters in this thoroughly expurgated edition. For full particulars write to 3936 Galene Street, Milwaukee, Wis.)

APRIL

DEAR JILL:

Some people keep diaries, others write letters, especially if they are lucky enough to have a girl like you to write them to. I never can see what a girl wants to save letters for, but Jim Callahan says his girl has his epistles all tied up with pink baby ribbon. By the time you get this all scented up with rose leaves, you should have quite a calendar.

This month started off appropriately on April Fool's Day. Paul Beach did a peculiar version of the nose dive when he fell off his chair in Biology Class. Paul always was afflicted with unstable equilibrium. And that reminds me! That class causes more peculiar accidents! You would have died the day Ethyl McDonnell lost her skirt in there. We all hooted and poor Ethyl turned the funniest color.

Somehow the weather seems to be affecting queer changes in everybody. You know what Bill Shakespeare said about young men in the spring when the birds begin to sing, and all that—Well, just listen to this one! Donald Rundquist's eyes actually changed color every time he looked at Frances Dickey. And another thing which you may believe or not, just as you please—but, by golly, it's true—the other day in history class, Mr. Dietrick forgot to mention his glorious trip in the Wild West! Now would you believe it? Of course, the weather may have been responsible and then again it may not!

But while we are mentioning the weather, aren't we proud of our baseball team. They're marvelous, I'm telling you, simply wonderful. We beat Ceggon twice, and Palo, and Alburnett. In fact, we just wiped up the floor, or should I say diamond, with everyone we played. And oh, those heroes! Just to see Wencil Kulish swing that bat, or Don Dipple tear down the field, is enough to make any ordinary female's heart completely flop. And then, of course, there is Joe Roeder. It's a shame he is married, although, of course, Mrs. Joe is something of a compensation. But how that man can coach baseball!

Then, of course, there were studies and classes in between times. Not that they bother much, but one must sit through them, and this month there were report cards and the academic meet. Thank Heavens, they don't come often. They're so disturbing to one's peace of mind.

There goes the bell, and I've got to stop writing this. I'll see you in the funny paper, or some other place equally appropriate.

Yours till Joe Turner gets his diploma,

JACK.

MAY

DEAR JILL:

This surely has been a "rush" month for M. H. S. In the first place, the baseball team caused plenty of enthusiasm and excitement by winning the game from Alburnett with a score of 12-1.

We had the privilege of hearing our old schoolmate, Richard Baker, give his state championship declam. piece at Miss Schomberg's assembly. Plenty of kick to it and a typical "Richard" number.

The Juniors certainly were a sad looking group on the morning of May eighth. "What about the Junior and Senior Banquet on the evening of May ninth?" was the question everyone was asking. Orville finally fixed things up and although the Seniors weren't entertained at Gatto's Inn the banquet was a huge success. Only, of course, I wished you were with me, Jillie. You don't mind a little sentiment, do you dear? All the kids were quite happy about beating Central City eight to seven and Monty seven to five but we didn't get to finish the game with Mechanicsville. It rained too hard.

Just think, there is only one week of real school left and it will seem good because we all have the Spring Fever. More disappointments—the Quills were to come out the 16th but the covers weren't finished so we were held in suspense longer.

Oh, yes! We just about lost a few of the Seniors before they received their diplomas. Don't get excited, they just took their annual trip to Independence! Everyone seems to be cramming for exams except Seniors—they get out of them.

Must say adieu for now. Will write again when school begins in the fall.

JACK.

SEPTEMBER

DEAR JILL:

It's queer how funny a fellow feels about starting to school again. It's good to see all the guys and all that, but it's hard to settle down. There's sure a flock of freshies this year and I swear they are all smaller and queerer than ever before. But by the time they've gone through three years of English, three years of that heavy old P. T., and maybe had a stab at the commercial course, to say nothing of completing a thorough training in the two kinds of art represented respectively by Francis Taylor and Herman Jess—well, by that time they should be almost ready to take our places.

The activities of the month have been rather unimportant. Everybody's just getting ready to do something. G. A. A. and G. R.'s are planning hikes, the classes are electing officers, the "M" Club is getting organized, and the football team lost its first game to Grant 7-0.

Were you lucky or unlucky on Friday, the thirteenth? Dickeys seem to have lost the rabbit foot, as they were arrested for parking the "Hup" in front of the school house.

That's all the news I know, and anyway I'm getting writer's cramps from taking English IV. I'll be seeing you, so look your best.

JACK.

OCTOBER

DEAR JILL:

You know the feeling that a fine horse has when it smells smoke. It begins to be wild-eyed, pricks up its ears, and starts tearing down the street. That's the way most of our school felt this month when smoky bonfires lured us off, when you shuffled through leaves whenever you walked, and everything conspired to wake in us that old gypsy blood. You may guess that most of our activities were open air affairs. The Seniors' weiner roast at Shafer Park was never-to-be-forgotten, while the Sophomores had a wow of a time at the Scout cabin. Even the teachers seemed to be stricken with the wanderlust. Mr. Carstenson took the position left vacant by Miss Burke and all of them galloped off to a teachers' convention while we had a couple of days of vacation.

Football has begun well with our victory over Iowa City. Co-Captains Taylor and Neff are putting that old gang through some rough stuff so we can leave the other teams in our dust this year.

There were a few changes in the Quill staff and pictures were taken. (Wolfe swears he caught Bull Neff trying to curl his whiskers in preparation for the big portrait.) But mostly it was a lazy month while we got into our stride for the year.

And that reminds me. Be good, Jill, or else have a good time. And don't forget that old playmate of yours,

JACK.

NOVEMBER

DEAR JILL:

Count your many blessings, Jill, old girl. In the first place you have me. And in the second, I have you. And now that's over, so let's go on to the serious affairs of life. At this Thanksgiving time we find that we are especially thankful for:

First.—Our football team. We beat Vinton, Mt. Vernon, Belle Plaine, and all of the other good teams in this part of the state. You may think I'm conceited, but if a girl has a snappy little figure you don't catch her hiding it under a lot of paraphernalia. Well, by the same psychological processes, you can't expect us to go around whispering to each other about our football team. You can just bet your neck we're shouting it from the broadcaster's microphone that we've got a Real Football Team.

Second.—Junior Class Play. You can imagine Lloyd Curtis and Mildred Carpenter flirting surreptitiously (I don't know what that word means, but I got it from Mr. Carstenson. He coached the play), and finally falling upon each other's necks, but not to weep. Sylvan Lawson seemed to have become prematurely aged, and we wandered how all the minstrel show managers had missed Bernice Reynold's possibilities as an old negro mammy. The play was plenty good, I'm telling you. And the name of it was, "Come Out of the Kitchen."

I've got to stop writing this. Miss Cain has developed an inhuman habit of ninth hour classes if you don't have your lessons, and fifteen minutes is not too much time to write out twelve questions over the interesting subject of Electromagnet Waves.

So toodle-oo-oo, old top.

JACK.

DECEMBER

DEAR JILL:

Brrrr—To tell you the truth, Jill, this weather has been almost cold enough to freeze even Marjorie Black's sunny disposition. It took us a while to get warmed up, but by the second week of the month things were going plenty snappy. The Glee Clubs really put the rollers on events by sponsoring the first All-High School dance of the season, which went over with a bang. Billy Murray was plenty warm in the orchestra pit. Catherine Cooper turned out a spicy bowl of punch, and Stewart Dolan's artistic temperament transformed the old gym into a really attractive old hole.

Then the next Friday the two Glee Clubs, under the direction of Miss Jaycox, came forth with a nifty Christmas program in Assembly. There was singing, playing, and dramatizing. Moreover, we were greatly favored by having Santa Claus come down from the North Pole to see us. He even brought presents for Ray and Nat.

Also the football boys picked their favorites and escorted them proudly to their annual frolic at the M. E. Church. The tables looked so much like a football field that, as soon as Jack and Ethel came into the room, Jack started yelling Barnyard three.

The Crimson and Gold Quintet journeyed over to Tipton to play their first game and they won, 29 to 11.

Vacation was a pleasant rest, and now it's time to begin again. Say "hello" to Santy when you see him, and be a good little girl.

JACK.

MARION CHAPTER DELTA SIGMA DELTA

THIS is the second year the Delta Sigma Delta, National Honor Society, has been organized in Marion High School. This society is sponsored by the Department of Secondary Schools Principals of the National Education Association. There are about eight hundred thirty chapters among the larger high schools of the United States.

Membership, which is determined by the faculty, is based on scholarship, character, leadership, and service. It is the highest honor that can come to a high school student, for the emblem is recognized everywhere as a distinct mark of ability.

The Senior members are: Mildred Sidlinger, Grace Boyd, Wayne Eckhart, Marjorie Beach, Calvin Fullmer, Leona Merkle, William Breed, Faye Jones, Kyle Fleisher, Stewart Hawk.

The Junior members are: Donald Arp, Mary Fernow, Frances Crew.

THE BOYS GLEE CLUB

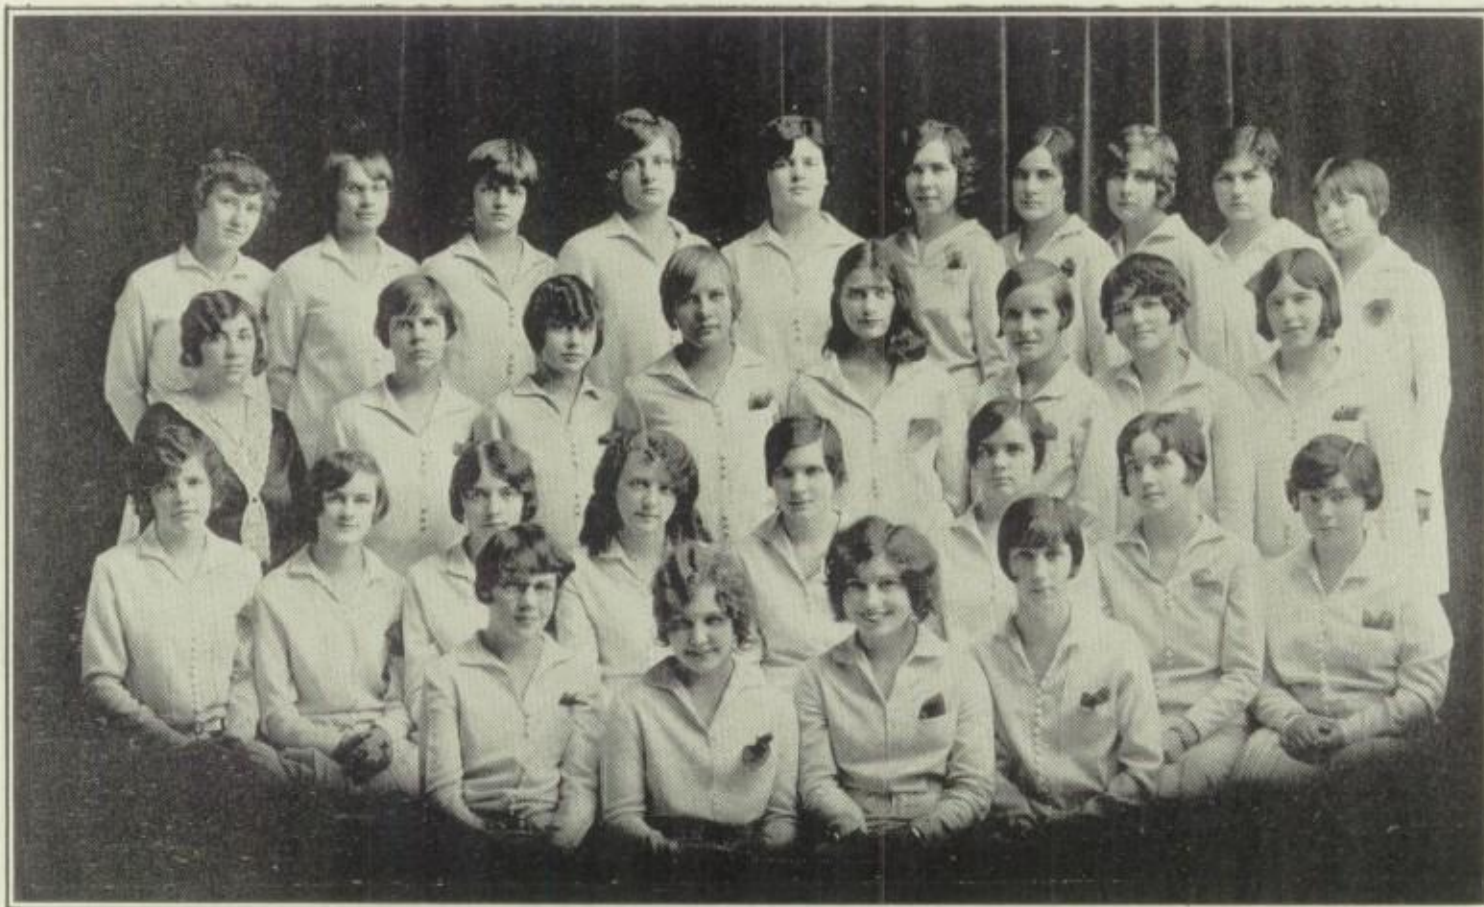

AN enthusiastic group of workers, the Boys Glee Club has taken part in many High School activities this year. They displayed exceptional talent in the presentation of the operetta, and are highly deserving of our commendation.

First Tenor: Stuart Dolan, Joe Turner, Stewart Hawk, Kyle Fleisher.

Second Tenor: Herman Jess, Donald Rundquist, Darwin Robertson, Leonard Burrows, Elwood Beiber, Thomas McGowan, Harley Reynolds.

First Bass: William Breed, Elliott Hutton, Claire Neff, Elmer Neff.

Second Bass: Billy Murray, Dean Lyon.

FIRST GIRLS GLEE CLUB

Mildred Holsinger.....President

Katherine Kendall.....Vice President

Frances Dickey.....Secretary-Treasurer

THE Girls Glee Club has been a decided success this year, both in an educational and in a social way. The credit for the admirable work accomplished by the girls is due to Miss Jaycox, supervisor of music. Gwendolyn Newlin is also deserving of a great deal of credit for her loyal co-operation as pianist of the Glee Club.

This year, through the voice classes, each girl has received individual voice training which now is a part of the weekly school curriculum.

Besides conducting the annual Christmas assembly, the Glee Club sponsored an All-High School Christmas Dance, which was an enjoyable affair.

The following is the personnel of the Girls Glee Club:

First Soprano: Ruth Neill, Margaret Reinheimer, Marjorie Beach, Eleanor Smith, Virginia Fry, Claribelle Goodyear, Hazel Gillespie, Catherine Cooper, Catherine Crane, Bessie Slauson, DeVeda Troy, Dorothy Cherry, Ida Patschke.

Second Soprano: Lucille Holsinger, Marjorie Black, Mary Fernow, Ruby Neff, Thelma Peterson, LaVerne Mae Titus, Helen Burt, Bernice Cruise, Katherine Kendall.

Alto: Verle Breed, Frances Dickey, Bernice Reynolds, Mildred Holsinger, Bernice Peterson, Margaret Miller, Mildred Carpenter.

In the Annual Music Contest held this year in Marion, Marion Girls Glee Club won second place; Mildred Holsinger, contestant in the piano solo contest, won first place in the sub-district and second in the district contest held at Waterloo.

SECOND GIRLS GLEE CLUB

THE Second Girls Glee Club has shown a great deal of enthusiasm this year. They have appeared in the High School Assembly programs and deserve considerable credit for their success.

First Soprano: Eleanor Nelson, Ruth McCune, Mary Reynolds, Eleanor Kendall, Helen Snyder, Maxine Hayes, Mary Lockwood, Evelyn Freeman, Harriet Clark, Eileen Ferriter, Bernice Hillerege.

Second Soprano: Ruth Burrows, Lucille Barber, Betty Hatt, Jean Dow, Clara Bills, Faye Springer, Betty Biggs, Dorothy Burroughs.

Alto: Margaret Carsner, Matilda Sanborn, Ada Fernow, Harmie Daws, Ruth Keats, Glenis Sprague, Ruth Stanton, Avalda Willis, Ruth Keenan, Leona Neff, Ruth Pierce, Isabelle Dar, Margaret Koppenhaver.

BAND

Billy Murray ----- President
 Marian Busby ----- Secretary

THE Marion Junior Band, under the direction of Paul E. Popejoy, has made much improvement during the past year. It has appeared in many community and school events, such as "The Old Settler's Day" program, High School assemblies, and the school athletic contests. During the summer months, this band gave weekly concerts which were well attended and enjoyed by everyone. Because of its successful season, it was entertained by the Woman's Club of Marion, on Friday, September sixth, nineteen hundred twenty-nine.

ACADEMIC MEET

LAST year, for the first time, Marion entered the State Academic Meet. The tests were sent out by the University of Iowa, and were given at Marion. The students who placed at Marion were then sent to the district meet at Cedar Rapids. The following represented Marion at the district meet:

English, ninth—Woodrow Manley, David Klink.

English, tenth—Ida Patschke, Frances Crew.

English, eleventh—Kenneth Reed, Frances Taylor.

English, twelfth—Walter Bensch, Lloyd Coakley.

Algebra—Woodrow Manley, Bernice Hillerege.

Geometry—Donald Arp, Albert Jordan.

General Science—Robert Hutchinson, Woodrow Manley.

Physics—Jack Blessing, Floyd Kahler.

Stenography—Aolabelle Mentzer, Marion Holdorf.

Typing—Mildred Sidlinger, Leona Merkle.

World History—Donald Arp, Ruby Neff.

U. S. History—Bryan Sanborn, Irma Wood.

The scores of the various high schools were based on the point system, Marion receiving 52 points. The next highest score was 35. This, in itself, proves how Marion High ranks as a school.

The following students placed in the Cedar Rapids meet and represented Marion at Iowa City:

Freshman English—David Klink, Woodrow Manley.

Sophomore English—Ida Patschke.

Senior English—Walter Bensch.

General Science—Woodrow Manley.

World History—Donald Arp.

American History—Bryan Sanborn.

Physics—Floyd Kahler.

Geometry—Albert Jordan.

At the Iowa City meet, Woodrow Manley won first in Freshman English and received the medal signifying the honor of being the best Freshman English student in Iowa.

LA TERTULIA

Grace Boyd	President
Gwendolyn Newlin	Vice President
Mildred Holsinger	Secretary-Treasurer

LA Tertulia, the Spanish Club of Marion High, is composed of all the second year Spanish students. The meetings, which are held during the class period on the fourth Friday of each month, include programs consisting of Spanish games and stories, Spanish authors, and intellectual diversions.

This club was organized by Miss Florence Bradley in 1918, and has been under the direction of Miss Mentzer for the last ten years. The aim of the club is to promote and foster interest in Spanish, and to further the students' enthusiasm.

El Eco is a Spanish newspaper for which the students subscribe.

THE Girl Reserve was organized in 1920 by Miss Locke and Miss Muirhead under the name Girls' Hi-Y Club, but when the organization became affiliated with the national Y. W. C. A., the club adopted the name Girl Reserve. In order to make the organization a community, as well as a school affair, the girls have for several years chosen mothers as well as teachers as advisers.

The work of the Girl Reserve Club is social, civic, and moral or religious. It aims to create a spirit of friendship among the students, to serve the community in every way possible, and to promote the upholding of a high moral standard in the High School student body.

Regular meetings are held on alternate Wednesdays after school, where a program of songs, readings, stunts, etc., is presented. Most of the High School girls have joined in having a good time together at the several parties given by the Girl Reserve.

Among other activities which have been sponsored by the Girl Reserve are: the distribution of food on Thanksgiving Day, giving a Christmas Party for the needy children of the community, and taking charge of devotions at our weekly High School Assemblies.

THE Girls Athletic Association is a very active organization in the High School, having a membership of one hundred girls. Its purpose is to promote sportsmanship and interest in athletic activities among the High School girls.

This organization is based on the point system. Numerals are awarded to girls who have earned six hundred points, letters to girls who have earned six hundred points, and sweaters to girls who have earned one thousand points. These points are earned by accomplishing certain stunts, participating in the sports of the season, and receiving exceptional grades in gymnasium.

A G. A. A. party was held on January 28, 1930 and the following girls received numerals. These numerals signify the year in which the girl will graduate.

30—Mildred Holsinger.

31—LaVerna Mae Titus, Helen Burt, Ruth Rundquist.

32—Margaret Koppenhaver, Avalda Willis, Helen Rasmussen.

Letters were awarded to:

Leona Merkel
 Margaret Rasmussen
 Ruth Neill
 Florence Holsinger
 Virginia Fry

Mary Fernow
 Bernice Reynolds
 Mildred Peterson
 Sara Hayes
 Ethel McDonnell

Each year a tournament in each of the three major sports, volleyball, basketball, and baseball, is conducted by the classes. The Juniors were successful in winning both the volleyball and basketball tournaments this year.

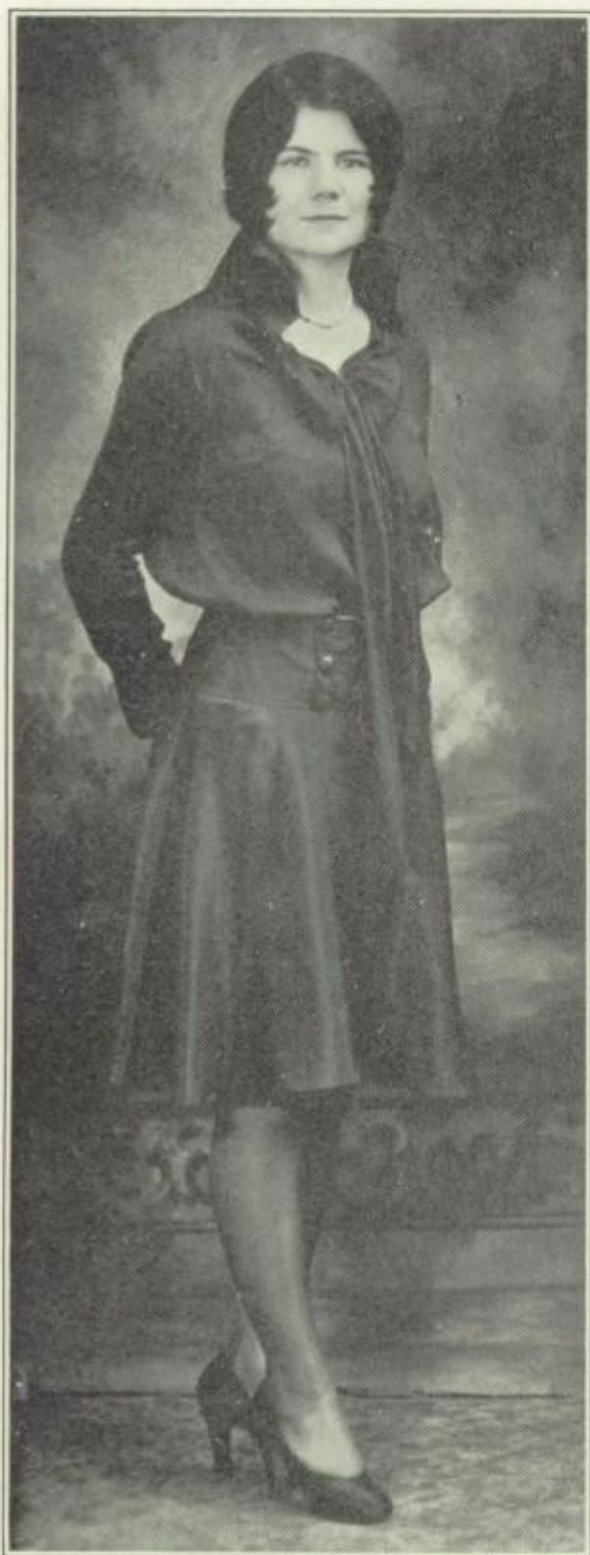

"M" CLUB

DeWayne Mozena ----- President
 Stuart Dolan ----- Vice President
 Don Dipple ----- Secretary-Treasurer

SINCE its organization in 1917, the "M" Club has proven to be an honorary organization. The membership is limited to athletes alone who have won an "M" in any of the major sports.

Its purposes are to boost clean, true sportsmanship and to represent Marion High's fine spirit. The 1930 membership includes:

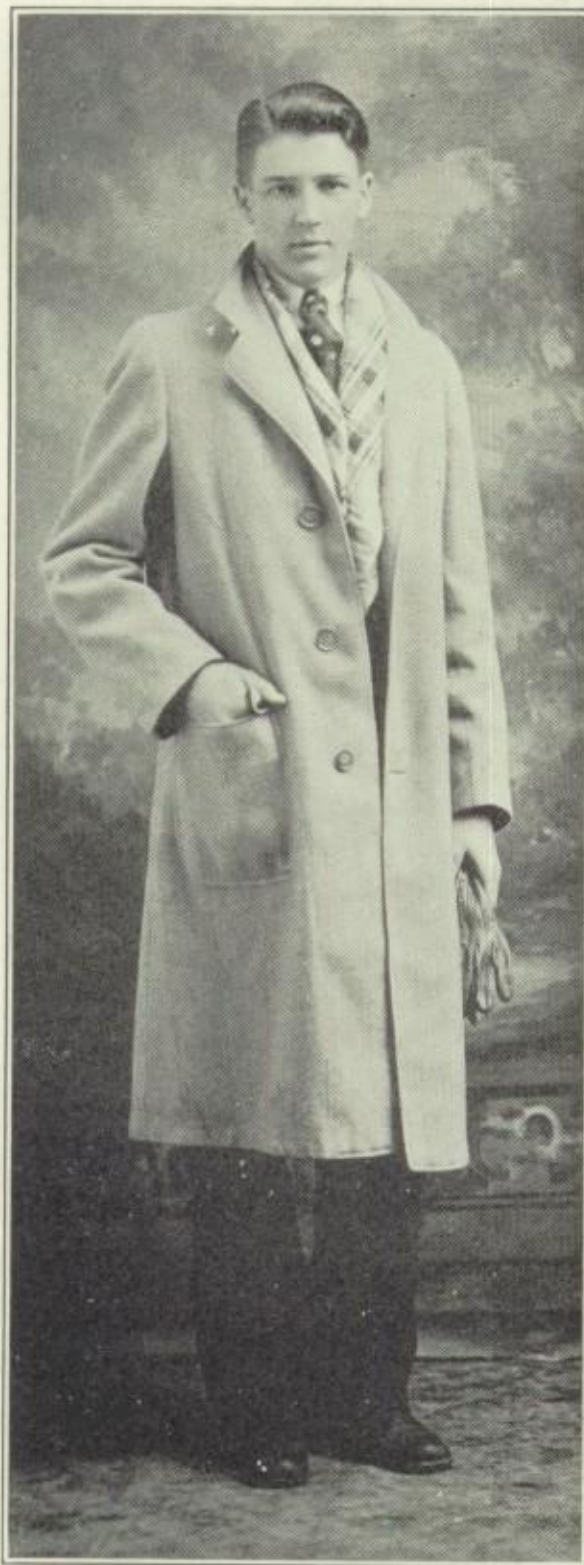

Donald Arp	Stuart Dolan	Leo Pinch
William Breed	Earl Frederick	Kenneth Reed
Dick Bristol	Hobart Gibson	Ralph Reynolds
James Callahan	Wencil Kulish	Charles Slauson
Clyo Castle	DeWayne Mozena	Francis Taylor
Lloyd Curtis	Claire Neff	Joe Turner
Don Dipple	Elmer Neff	Fred Katz

ETHYL McDONNELL

THE honor of being the "Most Popular Boy in Marion High" was rightly bestowed when "Pedro" was chosen. He is an all-around fellow and a good sport. His classmates recognize his real worth as a leader and the sincerity of his friendship.

ETHYL McDonnell is very deserving of the title, "Most Popular Girl in Marion High." She is noted and admired for her great wit and sunny smile. Her attractive personality has won the confidence and affection of her classmates.

DECLAMATORY CONTEST

HUMOROUS

"Willie's Dress Suit"-----	Thomas Lawson
"Jane"-----	Eileen Ferreter
"Betty at the Baseball Game"-----	DeVeda Troy
"A Pleasant Half-Hour at the Beach"-----	Annie Laura Davidson

ORATORICAL

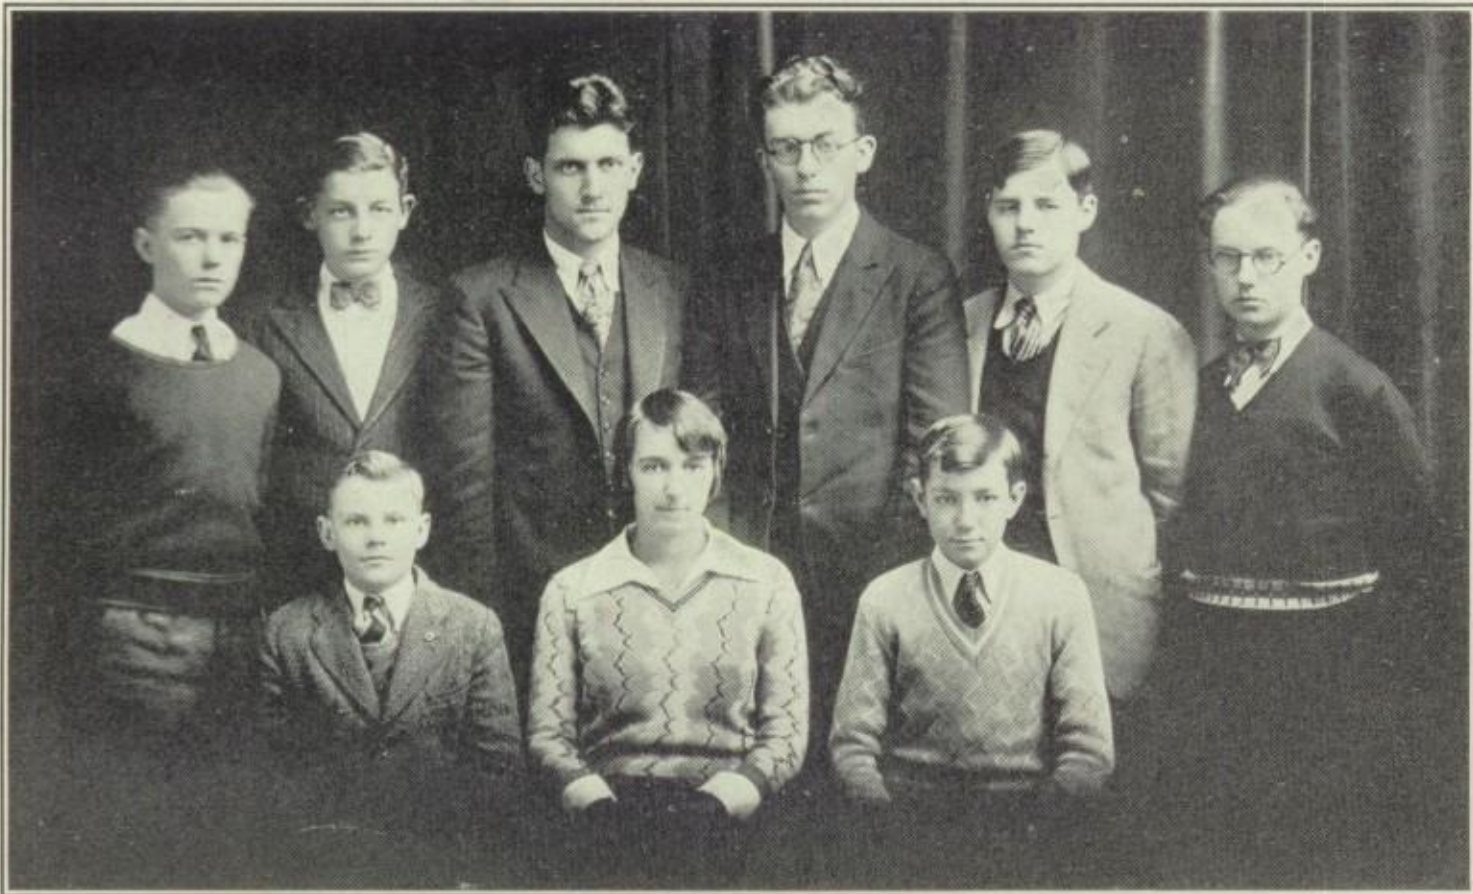

"Education of Father and Son"-----	Kyle Fleisher
"The Wandering Jew"-----	Stewart Hawk
"Iowa"-----	Margaret Fernow

DRAMATIC

"The Home Land"-----	Mildred Carpenter
"The Swan Song"-----	Verle Breed
"The Music Master"-----	Eleanor Smith
"The Christmas Substitute"-----	Helen Crane

THE above students were chosen from the preliminary contest, and represented the Humorous, Oratorical, and Dramatic divisions at the home contest January 24, 1930. First place in the Humorous division was awarded to Thomas Lawson, first place in the Oratorical division to Kyle Fleisher, and Mildred Carpenter received first in the Dramatic section.

These three represented Marion High School in the Sub-District Contest held at Mount Vernon February 24, 1930, where Mildred Carpenter and Thomas Lawson each placed second in their respective divisions. Both of these students will continue their work, and we wish them the best of luck next year.

DEBATE

QUESTION: Resolved, that in all courts throughout the United States the petit jury system should be abolished. Constitutionality waived.

MUCH interest was displayed in debate this year due to the assistance of Mr. Carstensen. Two teams were chosen and appeared in the State series, this being the first year Marion has ever entered the State series. The negative team was composed of Kyle Fleisher and Seigle Fleisher with Donald Hillerege as alternate, and the affirmative team was represented by Byran Sanborn and David Klink with Bernice Hillerege as alternate. The non-decision practice debates were held with Urbana.

The negative team was sent to Hopkinton where the critic judge gave the decision in favor of Hopkinton.

The second debate was held in Marion, where Marion's affirmative team opposed Maquoketa. Again, the critic judge gave the decision in favor of Maquoketa.

Although both of Marion's teams were defeated, the effort put forth by these students is highly commendable. Several students showed exceptional ability in this activity, and will doubtless lead Marion to future victories.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

THE Junior-Senior banquet in honor of the class of 1929 was held in Mentzer's Hall. The rainbow scheme was carried out, both in decoration and in the program. The Juniors were greatly assisted in the success of the banquet by the Rebekahs, who served. After the program, dancing and card playing were enjoyed in the High School gymnasium.

THE FOOTBALL BANQUET

THE annual football banquet was presented by the squad of 1929 in the Methodist Church. The dining-hall and tables were gaily decorated in the school colors, crimson and gold. The boys were greatly assisted by their mothers, who served the banquet.

Immediately following the banquet, a short program was given in which Coach Wolfe presided as toastmaster. Speeches were also given by Claire Neff, Francis Taylor, C. B. Vernon, Ralph Reynolds, Mrs. Leonard Taylor, and Mike Hyland.

As a token of appreciation, the football squad presented Coach Wolfe with a Parker desk set.

ALUMNI

THE first class to graduate from Marion High School was in 1872. This class consisted of three girls, one of whom is now living—Ella V. Williams, of Tacoma, Washington.

Under the direction of J. W. McClellan, the Alumni Association was organized in 1878 and has remained an active organization.

The main activities of this association are the Annual Alumni Basketball game, and the Annual Alumni Banquet given in honor of the graduating class.

At present, there is an enrollment of 1,745 members, including the class of 1930.

The Superintendents who have served Marion High are as follows:

J. W. McClellan.....	1869-1881
Rev. D. N. Mason.....	1881-1885
E. J. Esgate.....	1885-1890

“THE THIRTEENTH CHAIR”

PRESENTED BY THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1929

SYNOPSIS OF THE PLAY

THE Crosbys (Lloyd Coakley, Mary Erwin) are having a dinner party for the purpose of announcing their son's (Joseph Biggs) engagement to Helen O'Neill (Muriel Gordon). Edward Wales (Leonard Brenneman), one of the guests, invites Rosalie La Grange (Geraldine Slauson), a spiritualist medium, to come to the Crosbys after the dinner to entertain the guests. Outwardly, this is his only purpose in inviting her, but if the truth were known, he secretly hopes that he may reveal the identity of the murderer of his best friend, Spencer Lee, who had been mysteriously stabbed the year before. Finding this a new form of entertainment, the guests form the circle for a seance. The seance takes place, of course, in the dark, and just as Wales is trying to find out the murderer he falls from his chair—dead. It is discovered that he has been stabbed just as Spencer Lee was stabbed. The doors and windows are still locked—someone from the inside had performed the stabbing. Through a mysterious performance Philip Mason (Robert Petersen) is found guilty.

The play was a great success and much credit is due Miss Yates, who coached the play.

"COME OUT OF THE KITCHEN"

PRESENTED BY THE JUNIOR CLASS OF 1930

SYNOPSIS OF THE PLAY

THE Dangerfields, once a prominent and wealthy family of Virginia, are in decidedly distressful financial straits. In order to secure money on which to live until the return of their parents, the Dangerfield children (Mildred Carpenter, Dean Lyon, Frank Starry, Mary Fernow) rent the old family mansion to Burton Crane (Lloyd Curtis), a Yankee millionaire, agreeing to provide a competent staff of white servants. At the last moment Randy Weeks (Howard Guzzle) brings word that the servants are not coming. Burton Crane is already on his way to the South. He has invited guests—Mrs. Falkener (Margaret Oldfather), Cora Falkener (Frances Crew), and Solon Tucker (Sylvan Lawson). Olivia Dangerfield (Mildred Carpenter) decides to substitute the Dangerfield children for the servants. Amanda (Bernice Reynolds), Olivia's Black Mammy, becomes tangled in a few humorous incidents. The play ends with the re-uniting couples, Cora Falkener and Thomas Lefferts (Ralph Reynolds), a statistical poet, and Olivia Dangerfield and Burton Crane.

DONALD WOLFE

COACH Wolfe, the mentor of Marion High School's athletic sports, is a man of self-confidence, and has developed the same characteristics in the boys who work for him. Self-confidence and co-operation have been the main factors in the development of this year's winning teams. "Coach" has not only developed the spirit of sportsmanship in his team but in the school and town as well. Through his teams he has put the old Cardinal and Gold back on the map as an active school. His methods of coaching have made him one of the outstanding coaches of Iowa this year. The boys' admiration and appreciation are expressed in their respect and love for him.

COACH Roeder, one of the best baseball and football line coaches in the State, deserves a great deal of credit for his assistance in developing Marion High School's teams. He is not talkative but says worth-while things when he does talk. Joe knows the rule book from cover to cover and is always ready to support the team when a decision has been made against it contrary to the rules of the game. He is willing to co-operate at all times with any school activity whether athletic or otherwise. His straight-forward and sincere manner have won for him many High School friends.

JOE ROEDER

FOOTBALL CAPTAINS

FRANCIS TAYLOR

CO-CAPT. TAYLOR ("Monk")

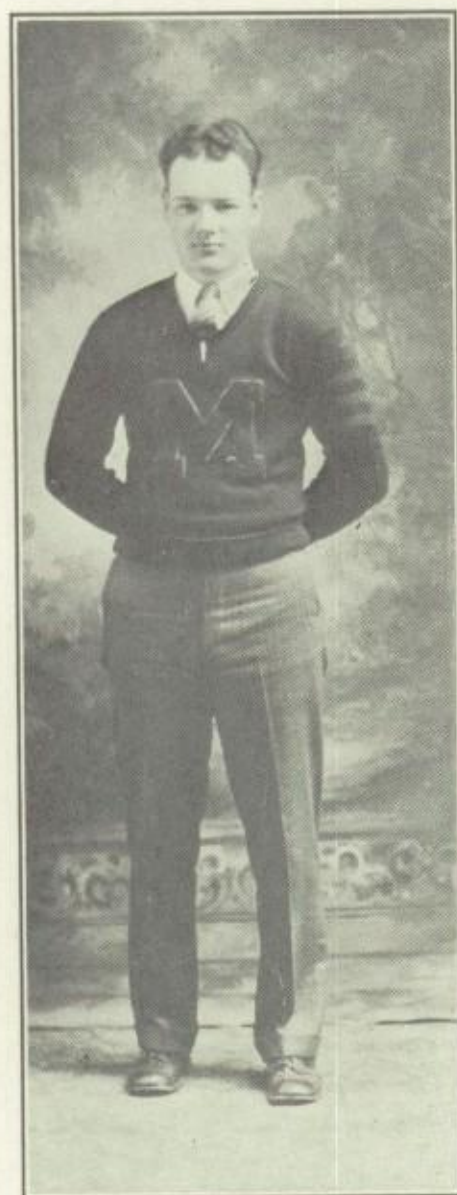

TACKLE

"MONK" is a three letter man in this sport, having capably held a line position for three seasons. His scrap made him one of the most reliable men in the lineup. Although he was hampered the last two seasons by injuries and illness, he showed what a lineman could do when he was able to play. Fran's great work is deserving of leadership as Co-Captain.

CO-CAPT. NEFF ("Bull")

FULLBACK

HAVING been a regular on the team for three years, "Bull" is a proud product of Marion High. His work was always for the team which made him a valuable member. His line smashing tactics, coupled with his superior punting ability, were his assets given to the successful team of 1929. Neff fully deserves the leadership as Co-Captain.

CLAIRE NEFF

FOOTBALL LETTER MEN

CALLAHAN ("Cal")

END

BEING of the typical fighting Irish type, Jim was a great scrapper. Playing steadily at his wing position, "Cal" proved to be tough work for his opponents. This is Jim's last year on the squad and his position will be a hard one to fill.

CASTLE ("Cleo")

END

BEING available for another season, "Ebe" will add strength to next year's grid team. He has the earmarks of a stellar end and possesses great speed which makes trouble for the opposing safety man.

CURTIS ("Speed Boy")

QUARTERBACK

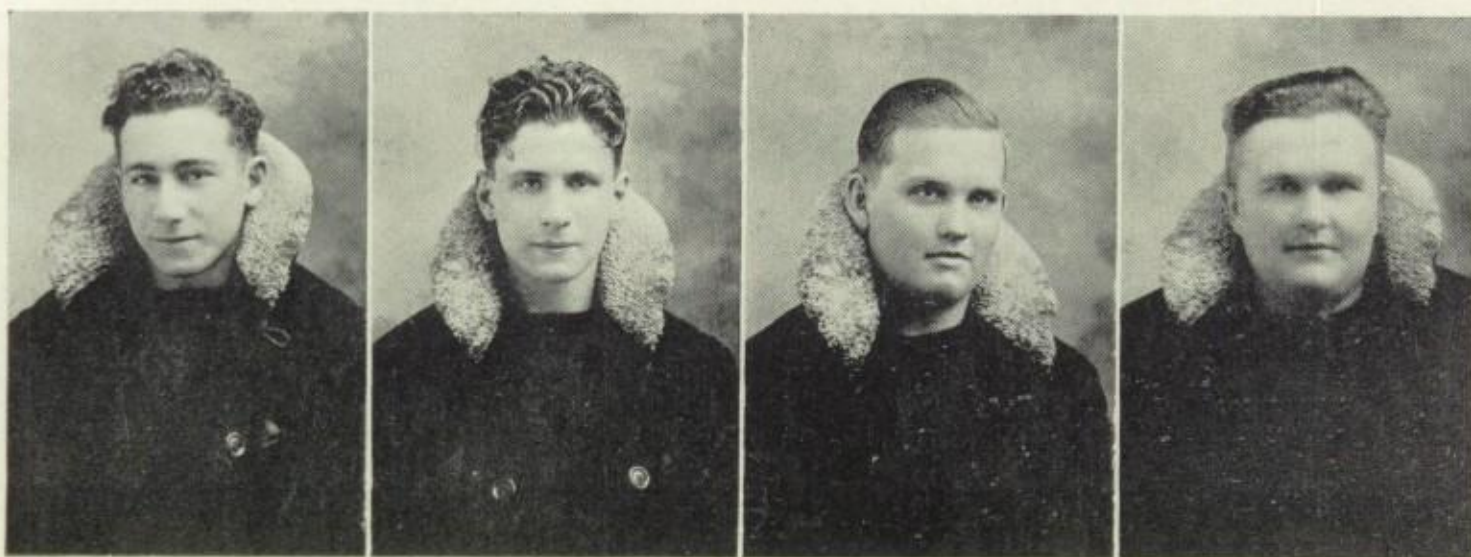

CURTY proved to have the qualities of a fast and shifty back. "Speed Boy" will be seen in action the coming season. He will more than likely fill the vacancy left by E. Neff and will handle it with due care.

SLAUSON ("Chuck")

END

ALTHOUGH "Chuck" was not of mammoth structure, his cleverness and fight along with his faithfulness made him a capable player in every way. As he has another year, "Chuck" will be one of the dependable wingmen.

FOOTBALL LETTER MEN

KATZ ("Yid")

HALFBACK

BEING a so-called "unheralded half," Fred had the gridiron stuff. His perfect blocking aided the team on offense and his miraculous tackling made him a clever defensive man. Fred was also found guilty of sneaking through the line on trick plays for yardage needed. Played two seasons, but he will be a loss to next year's team.

MICKA ("Jake")

FULLBACK

A CAPABLE, heady field general was "Jake." Being a newcomer to the school Mike soon won respect from the squad due to his clever head-work and ability to block and pass. This is his last year and it will be a hard proposition to find another man to take his place.

GIBSON ("Bill")

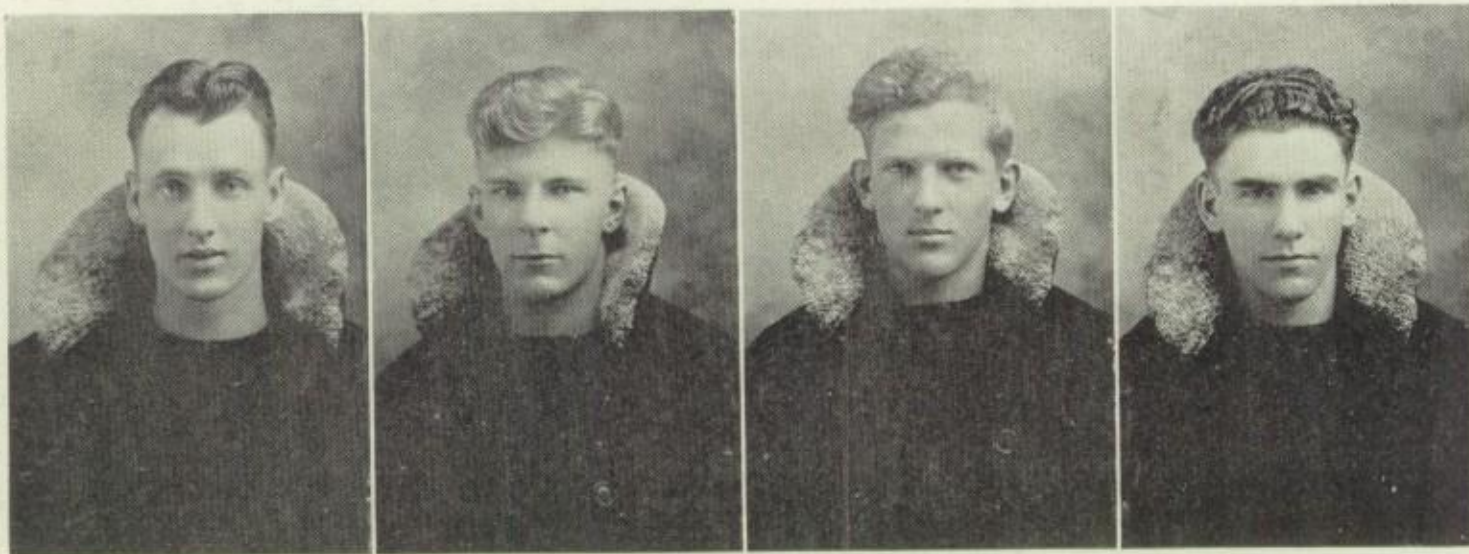

CENTER

ALTHOUGH "Bill" suffered from numerous injuries, his scrappy spirit enabled him to fill any position in the center of the line. Bill will graduate this year and his loss will be keenly felt when guards and centers are to be selected.

WELTER ("Heavy")

BEING somewhat handicapped by his weight and knee injury, John proved to be a tough customer for his opponents. His towering strength on defense was an asset to the team. This being his freshman year he should be of value in the coming years.

FOOTBALL LETTER MEN

E. NEFF ("Slippery Elm")

HALFBACK

PLAYING his last season for M. H. S., "Elm" was one of the mainstays. His ability to sprint the ends and make yardage on off-tackle plays made him a dangerous man for our opponents to stop. He showed his speed and elusiveness to a remarkable degree when returning punts as he had the qualities of a crafty ground gainer.

REYNOLDS ("Rasty")

FULLBACK

OUR Captain-elect for the "30" season was an important cog in the backfield. In his blocking and tackling tactics, "Rasty" was there with all his muscle. Next year will be his third year on the team and he will lead the procession with craftiness.

ARP ("Don")

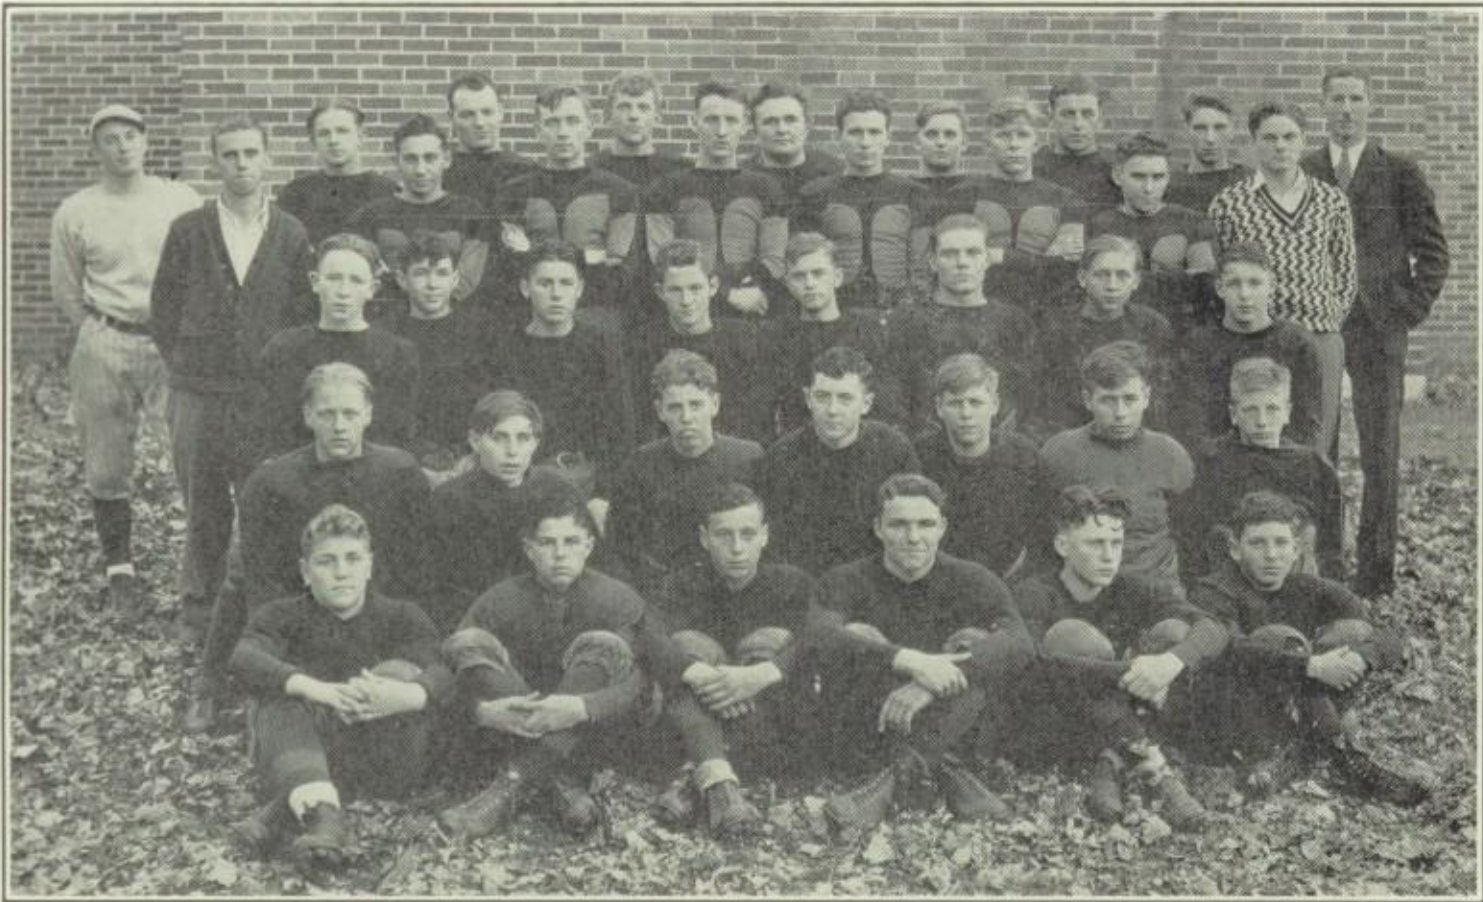

GUARD

THIS season being his second year as a letter winner, Don proved to be of capable calibre. His experience should aid next year's team greatly.

BREED ("Bill")

HALFBACK

HAVING been on the squad for four years, "Bill" could always be depended upon to work in the backfield. His willingness to team and scrap were the essential points he possessed. "Bill" also had great ability toward breaking up the opponent's passes.

FOOTBALL SQUAD

WHEN the 1929 Maroon and Gold squad assembled for practice, eight letter men reported to Coaches Wolfe and Roeder. There were about thirty who were green at the game. Their first team was finally chosen, and it went through strenuous practice for three weeks. Marion played a winning game throughout the season, with the exception of the Grant contest.

The Thanksgiving game ended in a scoreless tie. Eight Seniors played their last game for M. H. S. through a blinding blizzard that day. Marion can be justly proud of her football record this year.

BASKETBALL SQUAD

THE basketball season opened with about thirty-five men reporting for the first cage practice. After a week of practicing in which Coach Wolfe had an opportunity to view all of these men in action the squad was cut to fourteen men. Among them being E. Neff, Castle, Curtis, Callahan, Taylor, and Slauson from last year's squad; while the promising new material included C. Neff, Micka, Brooks, Reynolds, Fredericks, Bristol, Berlin, and Michel.

At first, practice consisted mainly of basket shooting and fundamentals, while later scrimmages were frequent, in order that a smooth working combination could be picked from the squad to represent the school.

BASEBALL

COACH Roeder proved to M. H. S. his coaching ability by comprising a team from unexperienced men with exception of Bristol, Fredericks, and Mozena. The team won ten of the eleven scheduled games. Roeder put in much time and labor and the squad came out regularly with a spirit that was bound to make a team.

After our scheduled season, the District Tournament was held here. Marion won the first game from Central City with a score of 5-4 and played in the finals with Center Point, losing 11-16.

M. H. S. expects a great deal from Joe and our Captain, Mozena, again this year and a very successful season is prophesied.

THE SEASON

ABOUT twenty-five men reported for track when the call was issued. The track in the old gym was used until the weather permitted the squad to go out-of-doors. The squad rapidly rounded into shape under the supervision of Coach Wolfe, and prospects for a successful season lay ahead.

Due to the insufficient funds in the treasury of the Athletic Department, the team did not participate in any meets with schools of this locality. A few members of the track squad went to Clinton, Coe, Grinnell, and Ames at their own expense. They were not very successful because of the stiff competition offered by larger schools.

THE MEETS

Clinton—At Clinton, Robert Peterson and Ralph Reynolds placed in their respective events.

Coe—The district meet was held at Coe. Beach placed second in the mile, R. Peterson placed second in the quarter mile, and R. Reynolds placed third in the half mile. These boys were eligible to go to Ames, as all that placed in the final heat were eligible.

Grinnell—The track squad attended the meet at Grinnell, that was all.

Ames—At the State meet Robert Peterson, Ralph Reynolds and Paul Beach participated, but failed to place in their events.

Ray Snyder was greatly impressed by the coliseum at Rome.

"Boy, what a nifty stadium," he remarked. "Where's the college?"

Chuck Slauson: "Will you go on a bob party with me?"

Marg Phelps: "I should sleigh not!"

Howard Guzzle (who has learned Shakespeare in English class, tells taxi to stop:
"Prithee halt the conveyance; I would alight anon."

Bernice F.: "I know where you can get a good chicken dinner for fifteen cents."

Faye: "Where?"

Bernice: "At the feed store."

Ruth Katz: "Are you fond of autos?"

Bill Gibson: "Am I? You should have seen the truck I ate for lunch."

The poor old absent-minded professor has finally been killed. He jumped out of an airplane and failed to open the parachute because it wasn't raining.

"Marry me, Richard! I'm only a garbage man's daughter, but—"

"That's all right, baby. You're not to be sniffed at."

Have you heard about the Scotchman who gave his wife a pair of rubber heels when she begged for a new spring outfit?

L. Poole: "How did you break your leg?"

D. Holsinger: "I threw a cigarette in a manhole—and stepped on it."

If you turn on the hot water faucet and get cold water; if you turn on the cold water and scald your hand, be nonchalant—you're in Physics class.

Harry O.: "Got a new job yesterday at the office—circulation manager."

Dever O.: "That's great; what do you do?"

Harry: "Turn on the fans."

"It won't be lawn now," said the elephant as he sat down near a "Keep Off the Grass" sign.

NOW WOULDN'T THAT COW YOU?

"Whey!" screamed the farmer boy, drinking a Holstein of beer. "I dairy to curdle up close to me."

"I cud," said the milkmaid, "but I'm not that kine of a girl."

"Imagine," said Elmer Neff, "I promised my folks I would never be a saxophone player."

Popejoy: "Well, you sure have kept your promise."

Fran D. to Mr. Dole: "I'd like to get an excuse for Don and me to go to Cedar Rapids if it doesn't rain. What's the weather report?"

Mr. Dole: "Rain, hail, thunder, and lightning."

Dick B.: "Would you like to go to a movie?"

Marj B.: "Sure thing!"

Dick: "Well, would you buy your ticket from me?"

Don D.: "I hear the coach called you a blockhead."

Bill B.: "No, he didn't make it that strong."

Miss Barnett, calling on Jim Callahan: "What happened in 1860?"

Jim: "I don't know."

Miss Barnett: "Now, James, I don't ask you for many dates."

And Jim still wonders why everyone laughed.

Mitchell: "Are there any slick crooks in this city?"

Curtis: "Slick crooks! Man, one night at a dance they stole my pants and hung weights on my suspenders so I wouldn't miss them until after they had gone."

Mrs. Bragg to Sam Smith: "Will your folks be surprised when you graduate this year, Sam?"

Sam: "Oh, no; they've been expecting it for the last three years."

Miss Hunt: "How is your brother, Tommy?"

Tommy: "He's in bed. He hurt himself."

Miss Hunt: "How did he do it?"

Tommy: "We were playing who could lean farthest out of the window and he won."

Jack M.: "What are you going to do after you get out of school?"

Fran: "I'm going to be a Prof."

Jack: "Yes, but you don't know enough to teach."

Fran: "Oh, well, I'm going to teach English."

Elmer Neff: "You look good enough to eat, baby."

The traffic officer had raised his hand and the lady motorist stopped with a jerk. Said the officer as he drew out his little book, "As soon as I saw you come around the bend, I said to myself, 'Forty-five at least'."

"Officer," remonstrated Miss Parkhill, "you are very much mistaken. It's this hat that makes me look so old."

Helen B.: "Why do herring have more illnesses than other fish?"

Rasty R.: "Who says they do?"

Helen B.: "Why, this book says that thousands of them are cured every year."

Adam was toiling home at the end of a hot summer's day, carrying his shovel and hoe, while little Cain tottered beside him. On reaching the Garden of Eden, little Cain peeped through the palings and said, "Gee, Pop, I wished we lived here."

And Pop replied: "We did once until your mother ate us out of house and home."

LeRoy S.: "Here's the same notebook I offered you last year."

Teacher: "Say, what's the idea of bringing that thing back here when I refused to accept it once?"

A Stepping Stone To Success

The sucessful business man of today has many means of coming in contact with the leaders of business, through his clubs, lodges, and membership in associations. ¶ This same advantage is offered to the students of Marion High School. He can become acquainted and friends of the leaders of athletics, dramatics, and class officers through a lodge which is made up of young men of his same age, namely, "The De Molay." LINN CHAPTER, ORDER OF DE MOLAY, No. 900

JANUARY

DEAR JILL:

The loafing days are over and its mighty hard to settle down. I don't see why schools must have teachers who insist on trying to test our mental accomplishments with inhuman tests. And, anyway, the idea of trying to remember all I've learned in one semester is preposterous. Of course, a few of the brilliant old eggs get a day or so more of vacation, while the rest of us rack our brains, trying to remember how to work these ghastly equations.

Miss Barnett has taken over the Freshies for the rest of the year, while Mr. Carstenson has charge of the Seniors. At least six Seniors have asked me to lend them my dictionary today. Do you suppose Mr. Carstenson gets a commission from Funk and Wagnalls?

The basketball games are in full swing. The boys are doing their best, but old Madame Luck seems to have forsaken us.

The forces of the "Quill" seem to be more than rallying 'round. The "M" Club has all traipsed down to the photo man, and the football boys have done their darndest to look like a cross between Red Grange and Jack Gilbert. Imagine Johnny Welter!

All of us fellows watched the G. A. A. dance from the windows the other night. Seems I overheard Everett Brooks saying, in the most wistful tone of voice imaginable, that it seemed a shame for so many really snappy looking girls to have to dance entirely with each other. I wondered which one he meant.

Here comes Elmer Neff. He probably wants to "borrow" my English paper again. J-A-C-K signing off. When the gong sounds it will be exactly thirty-three and one-half minutes after one.

JACK.

FEBRUARY

DEAR JILL:

"Thirty days hath September, April, June, and November;
But February has twenty-eight."

That may not be just the words Old Willy Shakespeare used when he wrote the above couplet, but you get the idea. What I mean is that you couldn't possibly have more events crowded into twenty-eight days even if you'd been one of these efficiency experts Miss Mentzer is always trying to get us to be.

I've heard about the Opera Season and the Baseball Season and the Open Season. Well, this seemed to be the Assembly Season. We had everything from impersonators, lecturers on flags and wild animals, to tenor singers. And then there was the debate, sub-district declam, and a lot of other interesting things.

But the big event of the year, or should I say of the season, was the Operetta. "Rumpelstiltskin" is a pretty fairy story. The dances, songs, speeches, and staging were all very effective. Joe Turner, Ruth Neill, Marjorie Beach, William Breed carried the big loads of the cast, but everybody was terribly good. The only disadvantage was that my voice is not in the best condition so that I couldn't do my usual outstanding singing. But since you weren't there I didn't care so much.

The Grant game was good, and the crowd was wild.

There goes that doggone bell so I've got to leave.

Bye, bye, old beaver. I'll see you in the funny paper.

JACK.

MARCH

DEAR JILL:

Here is Spring Fever in reality. Everybody is writing themes about it, singing about it, and, worst of all, practicing it. There are new clothes and old ones rejuvenated. Say, that reminds me. You should see the snappy red and yellow jackets we baseball boys get to trot around in. The girls all gaze at us in open-mouthed admiration as our manly forms decorated with those emblems of Our School cross the grass. (Whoopie!! That's worthy of old Bryan Sanborn himself.) Lucille Holsinger seems to have become so engrossed with baseball that she has offered to carry water for the boys. Some of the girls seem to be more interested in track, judging from the way Helen Burt and some of her cohorts hide around the school building when the hurdles and broad jumping are being tried.

But speaking of red and yellow jackets, you should have seen our band in the music contest. We won first (there were so many other entries in our class), and did we dazzle the eyes and ears of all spectators! In that same contest Jo Holsinger received first for her piano solo in spite of some very keen competition.

A lot of new activities were started such as try-outs for Senior Class Play and election of 1931 Quill Staff, with Margaret Oldfather as editor-in-chief.

Doggone! Mrs. Bragag just showed me a poem which means I have to discard a wad of gum. It's my favorite and it's practically fresh. I've only had it for three days. Well, such is the luck of a guy in Study Hall. Next thing that happens, I'll have to throw this letter in the old cubby hole. I better stop before it's too late.

In a few days, I'll be seeing you, 'cause spring is here. So try to be good.

JACK.

Miss Barnett, explaining simple adjective to class said: "I saw three Blacks. What would black be?"

Answer: "Noun."

Miss Barnett: "I saw a black person. What would black be?"

Cal F.: "A nigger."

From the bedroom of the two boys came the mingled sounds of loud weeping and hearty laughter, so father went up to investigate.

Papa Neff: "What's the matter up here?"

Elmer Neff, indicating his weeping brother: "Nothing, only nurse has given Claire two baths and hasn't given me any."

"Wither away with them shears?"

"Cutting classes today, Goof."

Billy M.: "No, I doughnut."

Mrs. Saysell: "Has this car all the modern improvements?"

Salesman: "Everything, madam, but a beautiful owner."

Cal F.: "Why, Mrs. Saysell, where have you been?"

Mrs. Saysell: "To the Beauty Shop."

Cal F.: "Oh! You didn't get waited upon, did you?"

Truant Officer: "Why haven't you sent your son, Clarence, to school?
Don't you want him to learn to read?"

Mr. Oakley: "It hain't necessary now that we have the talking movie."

Ray S. hesitated when Mr. Wolfe called on him to recite. Mr. Wolfe, who wished to cure pupils of bluffing, said to him: "Ray, what would you call a person who pretends to know everything?"

Ray (immediately): "Why, a teacher, of course."

Mr. Dole: "How many seasons in the year are there?"

Howard M.: "There are three, Mr.
Dole, football, basketball and baseball."

THE FACULTY

Here's to the faculty,

Ronald D.: "I did, I shook my head."

Mr. Carstenson: "But you don't expect me to hear it rattle away back here, do you?"

EXPERIENCED

"Love makes the world go around but so does a good chew of tobacco."

Who started the Lions' club if not Daniel?

Carstenson: "Now, will some people volunteer to call out some long words to me?"

Helen B.: "Peculiarities."

C.: "Good, another."

Mary F.: "Idiosyncrasies."

C.: "Yes, another."

Chuck S.: "Rubber."

C.: "That's not long."

Chuck S.: "No, but you can stretch it."

Billy Murray calls his car "true love" because it never runs smoothly.

FAMILY SECRETS

"Is your father a policeman?"

"No, but he goes with them a lot."

"Harry has the nose bleed, sir, and wants to go home."

"Go home nothin', let him make the cherry pies today."

TEN YEARS HENCE

Wayne: "So you met Miss Cain today?"

DeVere: "Yes, I haven't seen her for ten years."

Wayne: "Has she kept her girlish figure?"

DeVere: "Kept it? She's doubled it."

George Mentzer: "Did you see that airplane?"

Maynard Clark: "Thet 'ere whut?"

TO THE MODERN GIRL

Laugh and the world laughs with you,
Weep and the rouge comes off.

Miss Cain, after the class failed to comprehend the fourth explanation: "Now watch the blackboard again, and I'll go through it."

Helen S. (to Lab Instructor): "This manual says, 'Add HCL and agitate'."

Mr. Dole: "Well?"

Helen S.: "But I can't find the agitate."

IN COMMERCIAL GEOGRAPHY CLASS

Miss Willard: "Can anyone tell me where Pittsburgh is?"

Louise R.: "I think they're playing in Chicago today."

Johnny Welter: "For two cents I'd knock your block off."

Bill Murray: "Get away from me, you dirty professional."

Ray S.: "Have a good time at the dance with your blind date?"

B. Sanborn: "No. She couldn't see my jokes."

"Joe," said Mrs. Roeder, over the telephone, "you must come home at once. I have mixed up the plugs of the vacuum and the radio and the loud speaker is sucking the paper all off of the walls."

Miss Simpson: "You know my hair is just full of electricity!"

Miss Cain: "Why, of course, it's connected with a dry cell."

Dear Ruth:

If only I had a room full like you, what a joy it would be. You have been very conscientious about your work. Someone will be lucky enough to have you in class next year, but not I. I hope that they send up a lot more like you from the Saphmore Class.
